Dear Valued Sealed Air Customer.

As per previous notifications, since the end of 2020 cost for raw materials are still continuing to rise at unprecedented levels. With no easing of these costs being forecasted for the near future, we are providing advance notice that effective 15th July 2021 Sealed Air will be implementing another price increase on the products listed below.

Specialty Foam (Including Stratocell, Cellu-cushion, Whisper and Ethafoam) will be increased by 3%

All orders received prior to 14th July, 2021 for immediate shipment within Sealed Airs published lead times will be honoured at current prices.

As our strategic partner, we hope you can appreciate that market conditions have made these increases necessary and that we have delayed this increase for as long as possible. We also hope that you will take a leading position as you consider your plans to implement this price adjustment across your customer base.

We appreciate your partnership in implementing and communicating this action, and we ask that you address any questions to your local Sealed Air Account Manager:
